A Little History

Many monuments in France are attached to the story, for example Notre-Dame de Paris, which was built over two centuries. It is found in the chorus of some classics like Notre Dame de Paris by Victor Hugo published in 1831.

A place I love in France is Le Clos Lucé in Amboise, which is the home of Leonardo da Vinci, he lived there for 3 years. He was invited by King Francois 1. The garden is wonderful for walks and exploring his world.

Few words on France

France is in the center of Europe. It is characterised by its many different landscapes such as the mountains is the Alps, the seascape with the Mediterranean Sea and central Great Plains. But France is also the overseas departments as the West Indies (Guadeloupe and Martinique), the island of Reunion.

This explains the different cultures and French traditions.
